Banquet to Whitelaw Reid

American Ambassador Guest of Honor at Social Functions at London.

Lord Roberts Occupied the Chair and Toasts King and President.

London, June 23.—Whitelaw Reid, the American ambassador, who has been officially received by King Edward and the members of the cabinet and entertained by royalty and the leaders of English society, made his first public appearance as ambassador tonight at a dinner given in his honor by the Pilgrims Society of London. The gathering was one of the most notable and included many of England's famous men, with a sprinkling of Americans.

The large hall at Claridge's was crowded and presented a brilliant scene. The hall was plainly but daintily decorated with the British and American flags, huge bells of American beauty roses and other flowers, while the numerous round tables at which the company dined were decorated with red and pink roses and green clusters.

Field Marshal Lord Roberts presided and several hundred guests were present.

Letters and cablegrams expressing regret at inability to attend and sending greetings to the ambassador and the society were received from Bishop Potter, New York; Joseph Chamberlain, Foreign Minister Lansdowne; Sir Mortimer Durand, the British ambassador at Washington; Lord Amberley, Lord and Vice Admiral Lord Charles Beresford.

Lord Roberts, in proposing a toast to King Edward and President Roosevelt, said:

"The first toast on this vast programme is one which cannot but appeal to everyone in this room. It is that of King Edward and President Roosevelt. I thought that on an occasion such as this, when we are assembled to do honor to a brother pilgrim in the person of the eminent gentleman who has come to this country to represent America at the court of St. James, that it would be appropriate to bracket the names of the respective countries, not only because they are our rulers, but because in their persons we have two of the greatest personalities of the present time. When we reflect on the happy results of King Edward's continental journeys, upon the friendly relations of Great Britain with other powers, and indeed on all every phase of the King's reign, and when we reflect on the happy results of President Roosevelt's efforts to bring peace and good feeling stands out pre-eminent. The same might be said of President Roosevelt, who even now is giving the world the strongest proof of his love of peace and his desire to be one of the civilization's true friends.

"I ask you all to drink to the health, long life and prosperity of the King and of that distinguished American gentleman, President Roosevelt.

Lord Roberts' reference to President Roosevelt's efforts to end the war was greeted with cheers.

The Guest of the Evening

To Premier Balfour fell the task of proposing the toast to the guest of the evening. Mr. Balfour said that the sentiments which they regarded the American ambassador were different from those meted out to the representative of any other power. The American ambassador represented not an alien power, but a power of whose greatness Great Britain has proved and whose progress she has watched with interest. Each succeeding year the rights of the world, of Anglo-Saxon civilization felt how much they had in common. Whitelaw Reid's predecessors had indicated that it was the wish of America to be little entangled in the politics of the old world. But Premier Balfour doubted whether the doctrine in its extreme purity would be much longer maintained, as it was not reasonable to think that some great planet could be suddenly induced into the solar system and remain there without having an effect on the other planets with which it associated. This, the premier said, was seen in President Roosevelt's late efforts toward peace. In the present crisis Great Britain had the advantage of being so far not entangled in any of the complicated arrangements which embarrass the eastern powers, but President Roosevelt had taken the right time and used exactly the right influence in negotiations which every man in Great Britain, and every man in the civilized world, desired should end in the termination of the war.

Ambassador Reid, who was personally known to most of those present, received an enthusiastic reception on rising to reply, the company singing "America" and "He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

Ambassador Reid Responds

After gracefully acknowledging his warm reception, Mr. Reid said: "Regarding the great duty of the American ambassador, the business of laboring in season and out of season with the sole thought and aim of bringing about friendly relations between the countries, one supposes there must be something people still think we are likely to disagree about, because there are constant hopes that we won't. Who in this room can think of any subject the wide world round on which Great Britain and America have real causes for differences or disputes? Who can think of any cause now at issue between them, the dignity of a court of petty sessions?"

"Let me frankly confess the secrets of the prison house called the American embassy, the records begun under a number of my predecessors, which are evidently to be continuing records, the chief duty pressing upon us as disclosed by these secret records of recent years has not been to promote peace, for that is stable and the words mean to him, the definition of the labors of diplomacy. "He has had to be equal to the fascinating but bewitching task of making in a few days or weeks the graciously offered acquaintance of half the men whose names mean to him, the world and its history for the century; he has to struggle with the equally fascinating and bewitching task of accepting a fifth of the charming invitations that pour on him every day.

England's Warm Hospitality. "Speaking now with the precision of the official as well as of the journalist, he has had to find means of acknowledging in every appreciative way that the words and the deeds mean to him, the world and its history for the century; he has to struggle with the equally fascinating and bewitching task of accepting a fifth of the charming invitations that pour on him every day.

Well, then, perhaps we may agree that this business of keeping up the struggle to secure friendly relations between the two countries is no longer quite as urgent as to demand all your attention. Now if the Society of Pilgrims finds one of its tasks accomplished, and to that extent its mission gone, if it no longer needs to exert itself in bringing about the goodwill of either branch of the English-speaking ing people towards the other, it still has left a great work, as this good will reach down to deepest foundations and wider growth, and absolute permanence will be assured. "These are the only guarantees of perpetual peace we need. In this view—and, indeed, for all reasons—it is a great pleasure that Lord Roberts is going to America. We want more such men to visit the United States. I will not say more men like him, for what nation can boast of such wealth as more Robertses? But we want more of his stock, men who, after his example and to the measure of his ability, have served and are ready to serve their country to the uttermost on what they believe to be the work of patriotism, civilization and humanity. America has open arms for such men, and awaits them with the electric enthusiasm of our younger land. This is now a vital opportunity and duty for pilgrims to promote intercourse and better knowledge of each other, and co-operation in good cause.

The Old Unhappy Far-off Times when meetings were an opportunity for friction have long since disappeared. Give us now the widest possible personal acquaintance. Give us frequent meetings on each other's soil. Give us visits of friendship, visits of trade and visits of study, observation, travel and sport. Give us intimate and constant personal correspondence, and, I may add, without indiscretion, the Anglo-Saxon in either hemisphere has given us in all directions greater personal familiarity with each other's country and people, easier and more rapid means for personal exchanges. And after the success of this enduring goodwill, you will find others co-operating in works of civilization, the promotion of firmer friendship and co-operation in the pursuit of the peace of the world. Does this co-operation in efforts to carry forward rising humanity hold the English-speaking people together in front of the tide? Does not the advancement of our education systems take place on lines that neither correspond, nor conflict with frank and cordial comparisons and interchanges between them?

"After all this talk about the beneficial effects of intercourse and international co-operation, which is of common interest, may I close by saying that whoever brings the church and philanthropy of the two countries together, clasping the whole English-speaking family on whatever continents or lands it may be scattered, in a single bond, the strongest that has ever held them, or ever will, the bond of the historic relations of friendship and duty."

BRIDE AGREED TO OBEY

But Only After Making a Sensational Scene.

Chicago, June 23.—When Rev. Simon B. Blunt, pastor of the Church of the Redeemer, asked Miss Edna Thurston, of Detroit, if she would "love, honor and obey" John Hancock Mitchener, bridegroom, she refused to do so, and caused consternation by balking on "obey."

"Will you obey?" asked the minister for the second time. There was no answer. Looking up from his book, the minister asked: "Do you refuse to answer?"

"I do not think the 'obey' should be in the ceremony," said the bride. Miss Edna May Mitchener, bridegroom, and George Henry Lally, best man, gasped.

The minister said calmly: "I shall refuse to go on with the ceremony if you do not answer."

"And obey," he repeated.

"I will," answered the bride at last, and the final words were then spoken.

THE EQUITABLE IN EUROPE.

German and Austrian Policy Holders Take Action.

Berlin, June 23.—Over 60 policy-holders of the Equitable Life Insurance Society met here today under the auspices of the German Fire Insurance Protective League, to discuss the policy of the society in connection with the Equitable. The meeting was presided over by Dr. Grunewald, the society's representative in Germany, and a cable message from President Morton assuring the German policy-holders that the assets of the company were intact and that their interests were not endangered, and that all abuses in the society would be soon removed. Dr. Grunewald offered to cable to the state superintendent of insurance, Mr. Houdricks, at the society's expense, for confirmation of Mr. Morton's message. The meeting voted to ask the league to continue to represent the interests of the policy-holders and to co-operate with them. The meeting showed there was but slight apprehension on the part of the policy-holders regarding the solvency of the society, but several members whose policies have just expired complained of the disappointing results of the settlement. The mutualization plans now in progress in the United States were endorsed and measures were discussed to induce the Equitable to increase its reserves in Germany for the benefit of German policy-holders. Dr. Grunewald said the society's property in Germany amounted to $250,000 on $200,000 of insured capital.

The Austrian policy-holders of the Equitable have asked the German league to take care of their interests.

Paris, June 23.—The bourse was much agitated today by agitations regarding the Moroccan situation, causing a heavy decline in rentes. Three hundred off at 25 centing for the outsize on many offers. Later calmness was partially restored by purchases in behalf of the government. After a period of inactivity renewed offers of rentes caused a further decline. GREAT NORTHERN VS CANADIAN PACIFIC

Hill Men Confident of Winning
In Struggle Over the

Special Despatch to the Colonist.

New York, June 23.—James J. Hill interests are not alarmed at the extraordinary efforts the Canadian Pacific is making to prevent the passage of the V. V. & E. railway bill in the Canadian parliament. Hill men are accusing the Canadian Pacific of "sneaking" legislation, claiming that they are continuing to oppose the passage of pending bill without sufficient cause. The Americans are determined not to recede one inch from the stand they have taken in this matter. They expect strenuous opposition, but they say there is no doubt that they eventually will emerge victorious from the fight.

One of Hill's men said today: "This war in Southern British Columbia has now been going on for several years, and we are willing that it shall last several years more before we will give in to the demands of the Canadian Pacific. There will be no need, however, of continuing the conflict that long, as we are all confident that the Canadian parliament will uphold us. The Canadian Pacific knows that it is beaten, and is getting down on its knees and concentrating its energy on an Appeal to Loyalty."

which really involves the doctrine that British Columbia is not to trade with that portion of the United States lying to the south of it. They claim that, when the bill reaches the President, it will turn towards the boundary line, will cross it again, and will continue southwest to Everett, the Great Northern's port on Puget Sound. We have located a route through Canadian and American territory, and our Canadian neighbors have played fair with our Canadian neighbors, and, strange to say, it is difficult to get fair treatment in return, especially from the Canadian Pacific."

Valuable Words By Water Expert

A Further Interesting Portion of the Report by Arthur L. Adams.

Present Plant, Its Character, Its Deficiencies and Its Remedies.

Following is a further valuable portion of the report of Mr. Arthur L. Adams on proposed waterworks improvements at Victoria, dealing specifically with the present plant, its character, its deficiencies and its remedies:

The Present Plant
The present plant there referred to is that owned by the municipal corporation and supplying all that section of the city lying to the north and east of Victoria harbor, and supplying 4,582 of the total number of 5,193 services within the corporation boundaries, the remaining 611 being situated in that region lying west of the harbor are supplied by the Esquimalt Water Company, a private corporation.

The water supply is taken from Elk and Beaver lakes, a single body of water created by raising the level of the two original lakes a few feet and flooding the intervening land. The water is passed through open gravity sand filters and is then conducted to the city through two independent pipe lines, one of 12-inch cast iron and the other of 16-inch No. 12 rivetted steel, a distance of approximately five miles.

These lines were originally built as gravity lines, but their capacity becoming insufficient to meet a growing demand, a pumping station has been put in at a low point on the 16-inch pipe, and the capacity thereby increased.

No distributing reservoir has ever been built, the water from both pipe lines discharging directly into the system of street mains.

The water is distributed under three separate pressures—the 12-inch pipe from the filter plant supplies the westerly section of the city; the 16-inch line, with the assistance of the Dairy Farm pumping station, supplying the remaining section, save that in the summer time the higher resident section of the city is supplied by reservoir pumping, a part of the water by pressure, that is, without the use of any storage tank or reservoir.

It is unnecessary here to define definitely the boundaries of these different zones of pressure. The water is distributed through the city by means of cast-iron pipes and the usual services and accessories. An examination of the record of the daily pressures as recorded by the gauge at the office of the water commissioner indicates ample cause for the general complaint of lack of pressure. A chart typical of the conditions usually prevailing during the warmer months of the past year is herewith reproduced.

This chart shows that in the section about the city hall the pressure is frequently for hours at a time below 20 pounds, and since many parts of the city supplied by this same or a zone of still lower pressure lie on yet higher ground, the conditions are to be regarded as exceedingly poor. So poor, indeed, is it that people residing on the higher elevations must be without water much of the time; and I am informed that it is impossible under present conditions to better than afford them temporary relief during such hours as the draft is least on the system as a whole.

Under such conditions the inadequacy of the works for affording a suitable fire protection is beyond question.

I refrain here from more than thus briefly stating the situation, since the public is already conversant with the inadequacy of the present service.

The specific causes for such inadequacy, that the remedies may be applied, will be later considered. It is important, however, that the character of the service which should be sought in a properly designed system should be made known. The qualities which should be sought for in the design of every system of waterworks may be enumerated as follows:

(1) A source of water supply ample in quantity for present needs and for future growth during a period not shorter, if possible, than fifty years, and of quality as good as the local conditions make possible, in any event reasonably free from dangerous contamination, preferably without the necessity for filtration.

(2) Works for the gathering and distribution to the consumers of the water of a character which shall be free from probability of interruption, which shall maintain at all times a pressure sufficient to deliver at not more than 100 pounds, nor less at any point than 25 pounds, and preferably from 65 to 85 pounds; and which shall, for a city of the size of Victoria, afford for fire protection without resort to pressure to a degree in excess of what is necessary for domestic use, and sufficient to maintain ten (10) fire streams discharging an aggregate volume of 2,000 imperial gallons per minute.

(3) The securing of the desired results at the least amount of cost for fixed charges and operating and maintenance expense.

The present works at this time are certainly fulfilling few of these conditions.

The suitability of a water for general distribution is determined under ordinary conditions by its quality—

(2) As to smell and taste.
(3) As to hardness.

These are relatively important in the order in which they are stated. There are no absolute standards applicable to all waters in a single one of these respects. A study of local conditions must determine the standard for each community of district. Every citizen, however, has a right to expect that the best water will be furnished that the country and the financial resources of the purveyor will permit.

In the study of dangerous pollution, which organic or inorganic, whether containing pathogenic germs or poisonous mineral salts, chemistry and bacteriology are of much assistance. By the former, positive knowledge of the character and quantity of mineral impurities is obtained, and as to organic impurity of a dangerous character, it at best affords nothing more than secondary evidence which must rest primarily upon other and better proof. The latter is also true of the science of bacteriology. In other words, these sciences can in the present state of our knowledge afford us no primary proof of the presence of pathogenic germs in our lakes and rivers where they are not already subject to suspicion because of the known presence of sources of contamination chiefly of human origin. If a water supply is not subject to such suspicion, and particularly if it has long been used with unfavorable results, it is useless to make such inquiry. Elk and Beaver lakes, 600 acres in extent, supplied from an almost uninhabited section, holding the water in storage for a considerable period of time before use, fulfills all the conditions which, in the light of our present knowledge, are considered necessary, to remove it from any suspicion of dangerous contamination so long as these conditions are maintained. It is important, however, that its drainage area should remain practically free from habitation, and that close sanitary supervision be exercised over all residents now dwelling upon its watershed.

Just What Everyone Should Do.

Mr. J. T. Barber of Irwinville, Ga., writes: "I have a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy at hand ready for instant use. Attacks of colic, cholera morbus and diarrhoea have been cured by its use. I have no time to hunt a doctor or go to the store for medicine. Mr. Barber says: 'I have tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which is one of the best medicines I ever saw. I keep a bottle of it in my room and it has proved to be the best medicine ever used.' Sold by all Druggists."

Because the use of water known to contain sewage contamination is always accompanied by the presence of an abnormal number of typhoid cases, a study of the typhoid death rate is now frequently employed to determine the probable healthfulness of the water supply.

In the year 1903, the only record at hand, Victoria had five deaths from typhoid, which is at the rate of 20 per 1,000 of population. For purposes of comparison with other cities, there is herewith submitted the following table recently compiled in New York city, showing the death rate in all cities of the United States having a population of 30,000 or over. Attention is called especially to the cities of the Pacific Coast:

Seattle 28.7
Tacoma 25.4
Portland 26.6
Oklahoma 26.5
San Francisco 27.2
Los Angeles 37.3

The showing is very favorable to Victoria, its standing being in the entire list of 136 cities, twenty-third in the order of merit.

Brig Tanner

Waterlogged

Vessel Built Half a Century Ago

Picked up Yesterday by Sound tug.

Aorangi Sails for Australia With a Big Cargo—Princess May Sails.

The old brig Tanner, built half a century ago at Smithtown, New York, was picked up off the west coast of Vancouver island yesterday by one of the tugs of the Puget Sound tugboat company and towed to the Sound in a waterlogged condition. The old brig, ever in trouble—it has become a habit of marine observers at coast signal stations to report "Brig Tanner in distress"—was bound from Makileto with a cargo of lumber for San Francisco, and when on her way down the coast encountered heavy storms which caused her to leak. In a waterlogged condition, with her masting pumps, the old brig was carried north toward the rocky coast of Vancouver island and, evening the Tanner was sighted off Cape Beale by Lightkeeper Patterson, who sent word to Seattle of the craft's predicament and tugs were given orders to search for the old brig. The search was successful and the old brig was towed to the Sound on Thursday evening, but ultimately returned to the vessel, presumably with the intention of working her into Barkley sound. The little tug was owned by W. Newhall of Seattle until last week, when she was recently stranded at Port Angeles and changed owners after being salvaged. The tug is one of the few survivors of old-time coasters, such as the old Jane M. Falkenberg, owned by the same firm. She is a derelict now of six years ago. She is small craft of 201 tons gross, 120 feet long, 20.7 feet beam and 11.7 feet deep.

FOUR WERE DROWNED.

Party Which Stole Sheep Omnium Lost in Vicinity of Mayne Island.

Steamer Iroquois, which is running to the Gulf Islands and Nanaimo from Sidney, brought the news of the loss of the stolen sheep omnium, of Nanaimo, and the drowning of the four who stole her, as briefly told in yesterday's Colonist. The Iroquois brought news that the sheep omnium near Mayne island on Monday night.

On Sunday night last the omnium was stolen from her anchorage near Departure bay, and was discovered Tuesday capsized, sails set, drifting in the Gulf between Mayne and Valdes islands, by some Indians and towed into Cowichan bay. A skiff was still fast to the sloop, filled with water. It is certain that the men aboard the sloop were drowned, as they escaped it would have been in the small boat. In the gale that was blowing for 15 hours after the sloop disappeared, it is likely the boat capsized, throwing the men into the water far from shore, and that it was impossible for them to hold on to the keel or the upturned boat until their plight was discovered.

The name of but one of the victims is known. He was a young lad of about 18, named Stewart. He had been on the ship since Sunday paid off from the bark Don, discharging at Departure bay. In the evening he appeared at Shaw's boat house and secured a skiff, saying he was going to the Don to get his baggage, and that he intended to join the Wellington at Lad-smith the next morning.

He went to the ship, as subsequently shown, and secured his clothing, and was seen ashore with his baggage. About 11 o'clock that night Thomas Boyd, a fisherman, came into the bay and anchored his sloop, going ashore to the Pink. He returned an hour later but the sloop had disappeared. Boyd is a fisherman and makes his sloop his home. All he possessed in the world was in the boat, including $50 in money.

About an hour after the sloop disappeared from the north channel a sloop believed to be the omnium, was passed by a belated party returning from the islands, standing out of the gap between Protection and Newcastle islands, with a small boat in tow. There were four men aboard the sloop.

The next morning nothing further could be learned of either the sloop or Mr. Shaw's small boat. The small boat found fast to the capsized omnium is the one taken from the boat house.

ARE DISCOVERING COWICHAN LAKE

Tourists Enamored of Attractions of Island Point Inadequately Advertised.

Many of the tourists at present visiting the city have "taken in" Cowichan lake, with the varied attractions of which they are much enamored. They express great surprise that no special attempt is made to advertise the attractions of the island of the rich trout in store for the tourist in that section. Some of them complain that on arriving in Victoria they find it almost impossible to obtain any information respecting the attractions of Cowichan lake—hotel accommodations, fishing prospects, etc.—from the sources presumed to be well posted on the matter. They feel that Victoria is making a decided mistake in not paying more attention to advertising the attractions at the various resorts, notably those at Cowichan lake, which, in their opinion, is an island asset of the first magnitude, one which is destined to ultimately become the means of thousands of pleasure-seekers.

Just at present the lake is being visited by many tourists, all of whom are delighted with the fine sport with the rod and the charm of the scenic beauty. Amongst the recent visitors was a party of Australians who made the trip from the lake by Indian canoe down river to Duncan. This proved a rare and fascinating operation this season, as the Indians made the trip describe it as unequalled anywhere in the world for absorbing pleasure.

The E. & N. suburban train, now become an established fact, has been the means of attracting more families out of town each season. This year quite a number are added to the list, among them being that of Mr. M. B. Smith, deputy minister of finance, who has secured a summer cottage at Shawinigan, and also that of Mr. Breunlich. In addition several families have made arrangements to stay at the hotels or to camp out, while quite a number of new cottages have been built this spring. The reserve which was on the E. & N. lands pending the negotiations leading up to the recent transfer, somewhat retarded building operations this season, as only a few persons contemplated purchasing land on which to build summer residences, but despite that, it is expected that several more houses will be put up this year.

FOR TARGET PRACTICE.

Fleet of U. S. Warships Coming to Straits Shortly for Firing Drills.

On July 6 quite a fleet of United States warships will cruise off Puget Sound in the Straits to engage in target practice. The battleship and torpedo boat destroyer Perry were at Port Angeles during the week and will return to the target practice of July 6 and succeeding days. Other United States warships coming to the Straits at that time are the U. S. S. Chicago, flagship of Admiral Goodrich, and the U. S. S. Boston.

THE YUKON STEAMERS.

Traffic on Northern River Is All That Could Be Desired This Season.

News received from White Horse to the effect that traffic on the upper Yukon this summer is all that could be desired. The fleet promises to be busy the entire season. The White Pass, with the acquisition of the Casco and the building of several new barges, is able to handle much more than ever before.

As soon as the water rises a little more at the head of Lebarge much heavier traffic will be carried. As the steamers bring only about half a load over the head of Lebarge. They are completing their loads at Hootalinqua with steel trails, which will be all removed within a few days.

The White Pass is thinking of putting a steamer on the Hootalinqua this summer to supply the Big Salmon camp. If sufficient business is offered the boat will be put on the run. The Big Salmon never has had a great deal of traffic, but one or two steamers a year have been sent up the river in past seasons. It may be that some steamer also will be sent up the Takkini this summer on one or two trips, and perhaps this will be demanded for a steamer to go up the Pelly a trip or two.

THE DAKOTA COMING.

Big Hill Lined Expected to Reach the Sound Shortly from Golden Gate.

The big Hill liner Dakota is expected to reach the Sound on July 8 from San Francisco, where she is discharging mails. She was 52 days from New York to San Francisco, but from Coronel she came in the excellent time of 17 days. At the Chilean port there was a delay of six days owing to the poor facilities for coaling. On July 10, from the south-west, gales were encountered and they were of such violence that the big ship pitched and rolled considerably. Aside from this weather on the passage was ordinary.

The Dakota is 21,000 gross tonnage and has a carrying capacity of 10,000 tons dead weight. She is 135 feet in length and 73.8 feet in breadth. She is second in size only to the White Star liner Baltic. Her engines are twin screw and triple expansion with 12,000 indicated horse-power. On her trial trip she made 17.7 knots. Captain E. Franke was formerly chief officer of the Atlantic liner St. Louis. He was 16 years in the service of the Red Star and American lines and his last visit to San Francisco was in 1883, when he arrived there as third mate of the German ship Helikon. Joseph E. Roberts, formerly of the trans-Pacific Mail, is chief officer; R. S. Paul, who was one time on the trans-Pacific Sheridan, is chief engineer; Dr. W. H. Lopp, well known here when he was on the liner America Maru, is surgeon. George W. Medley, late of the trans-Pacific service out of New York, is chief steward.

KINSU MARU SEES WRECK.

Japanese Sealer Reports to Whaler's Captain Floating Derelict.

The San Francisco Chronicle of Wednesday says: A letter received from Captain Foley, of the whaling schooner Monterey, containing information that an unknown schooner sailing from this port is floating bottom side up in Behring sea. Captain Foley has been informed by the skipper of a Japanese sealing vessel that the derelict, showing a flat hull, and with only the letters "A" and "B" and the words "San Francisco" visible, had been seen by him in latitude 58 deg., 17 min. north, longitude 140 deg. west.

AORANGI SAILS.

Canadian-Australian Liner Left Last Night for Antipodes.

The Canadian-Australian liner Aorangi, Captain Phillips, sailed last night from the outer wharf for Honolulu, Suva, Brisbane and Sydney. The steamer had a full cargo of general merchandise, which included large shipments of lumber, including large quantities of lumber shipped from Eastern Canada and large consignments of rough and dressed lumber for Sydney. The passengers who sailed by the steamer were: W. Foster, Thomas Boyle, W. J. Wilson, J. Grant, A. S. Randall, B. Bulmer and wife, C. H. J. Dibbs, W. J. Winkler and wife, Mrs. T. H. Davies, Justice Dennison, W. F. Johnston, B. Rogers, wife and child, L. Allen Ansell, A. P. Fletcher, Thomas B. Campbell, E. C. Carpenter, C. S. King, Miss Allen, C. B. Faneaster, Rev. W. H. Farrington, F. E. Wood, A. Dennison, H. B. Smith and child, Miss M. Milner, Mrs. Lennox, W. H. Anderson, N. S. Thompson, Mrs. C. M. Hulton, Rev. Irwin Taithebeck, J. Bell, J. K. Wright, B. ARE DISCOVERING COWICHAN LAKE

Tourists Enamored of Attractions of Island Point Inadequately Advertised.

Many of the tourists at present visiting the city have "taken in" Cowichan lake, with the varied attractions of which they are much enamored. They express great surprise that no special attempt is made to advertise the attractions of the island of the rich trout in store for the tourist in that section. Some of them complain that on arriving in Victoria they find it almost impossible to obtain any information respecting the attractions of Cowichan lake—hotel accommodations, fishing prospects, etc.—from the sources presumed to be well posted on the matter. They feel that Victoria is making a decided mistake in not paying more attention to advertising the attractions at the various resorts, notably those at Cowichan lake, which, in their opinion, is an island asset of the first magnitude, one which is destined to ultimately become the means of thousands of pleasure-seekers.

Just at present the lake is being visited by many tourists, all of whom are delighted with the fine sport with the rod and the charm of the scenic beauty. Amongst the recent visitors was a party of Australians who made the trip from the lake by Indian canoe down river to Duncan. This proved a rare and fascinating operation this season, as the Indians made the trip describe it as unequalled anywhere in the world for absorbing pleasure.

ONE BOX OF DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS CURED DROPSY.

Dropsy is not a disease in itself, but many people believe, but is an evidence of very severe kidney trouble. Dropsy is caused by watery particles oozing through the walls of the arteries when they are distended by unusual pressure, which can only be caused by obstructions in the kidneys. The symptoms of Dropsy are puffiness under the eyes, swelling of the feet and ankles, urine changed in character and appearance, smothering feeling from exertion or excitement. The only rational method of treating this disease is to reach the kidneys and restore them to a healthy condition.

The most successful remedy for this purpose is Doan's Kidney Pills. Read what Miss Agnes Creelman, Upper Smithville, N.S., says of them: "I caught a cold, which settled in my kidneys, and turned to dropsy. My face, limbs, and feet became bloated, and if I pressed my finger on them it would make a white impression that would last fully a minute before the flesh regained its natural color. I was advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills, and found by their use that I was cured in a very short time. I have never had my trouble with it since."

Price 50 cents, per box, or 3 for $1.25.

COMPULSORY ARBITRATION.

Mr. F. Danvers Power, an Australian special contributor to the New York Engineering and Mining Journal, writes in the issue of June 15 of that publication on the subject of compulsory arbitration, giving experience of the Arbitration Act of New South Wales, which came into force in that state in 1902. This review of the results achieved under that act is of interest in British Columbia, particularly as compulsory arbitration has from time to time been urged as desirable, whenever labor difficulties have arisen in this Province.

Mr. Power first briefly summarizes some of the advantages enjoyed by Australia, which, he says, in many respects, a fortunate country, and yet, this notwithstanding, it is "not such a desirable country to live in as one would expect, for the reason that those responsible for making our laws have made grievous blunders. The labor politicians are numerically in the minority, but too often they hold the balance of power, and so succeed in passing bills to further their ends, the avowed aim of which is communism, which, so long as human nature exists, means that the industrious man works for the loafer."

Dealing with the general aspect of the question, Mr. Power is of opinion that the attitude of the labor party has done more than anything else to drive capital out of Australia, and to prevent fresh capital from coming in. The action of the "laborites," he declares to be in most cases due to their ignorance of history and the elements of political economy. Their desire to increase the sum of human happiness he regards as commendable, but the way they propose to do it, he thinks, likely to defeat their object. Private enterprise is discouraged, while freedom and justice are doomed, and there is no stimulus for a man to do his best so long as good and bad workmen are to have a uniform wage. The result must be that, though wages may become higher for a few, the older, weaker and slower persons will be thrown out of work; and, as they cannot be allowed to starve, it means that the workers must keep them, and it will take more than the extra wages they earn to keep so many in idleness. Among the results will be an aggravation of the position by the fact that money will not have the same purchasing power, markets will be limited, and production reduced, capitalists will not lend money to such people for working on an unbusiness-like basis, there will be little chance of getting it back, the taxpayer will have to find the wherewithal to keep up this huge experiment, and eventually the intelligent and energetic workers will be driven to other countries, to seek there suitable reward for their labor. Finally, the incentive to work having gone, production will diminish and the standard of living will necessarily fall.

Turning to the New South Wales Arbitration Act, which was to run for six years as an experiment, he says: "Three years have passed, and so far its effects may be looked upon as a dismal failure. Though applied to all industries, yet mining being one of the chief of these, it has been correspondingly affected. Sir Frederick Darby, the Chief Justice of New South Wales, during proceedings before the Full court, in an appeal matter from the Arbitration court, summed up as follows:

"It is also beyond question that the Arbitration Act, as in force in this state, is an act which is in derogation of the common law; it does encroach upon the liberty of the subject as regards persons and property; it creates new crimes unknown to the common law, or contained in any previous statute. It interferes with the liberty of action of both employer and employee. It provides the one from giving, and the other from obtaining, employment except on terms imposed by the act, and it can prescribe terms of management which, however just, may be to the employer, but which he must comply with under penalties for any breach of the order of the court. There are many other matters to which I might refer, such as the operation of the common rule upon persons who have not been before the court; but it is not necessary to do so. Further, I think the act is productive of the most alarming and reprehensible amount of litigation, with its concomitant ill-feeling and ill-will between employers and employees, who are by this act forced into hostile camps. I believe the object of the Labor party, in passing this act, was to procure peace and good-will between employers and employees, but I fear it has not done so."

Mr. Power deprecates the absurdity of such far-reaching legislation being put into force as an experiment without those responsible for it first making exhaustive investigation. Such want of foresight causes loss of confidence in the ability and judgment of the majority of politicians concerned. The labor party, he states, ignores the law of supply and demand, and forgets that labor is not the only factor in wealth-making. This Arbitration Act, which was intended to prevent strikes, has gone beyond the purpose it was intended to serve, with the result that nearly 120 industrial disputes have been filed with the registrar for arbitration since the court has been in existence.

istence, and 60 of these are still on the file waiting to be heard, several of which were lodged during 1902. As soon as the act came into force there was a rush to get wages raised, whether the trade could stand it or not; many disputes were filed that would never have cropped up in ordinary course of events, while others would have been settled by a meeting of employers and employees; but instead of using voluntary arbitration to effect conciliation, compulsory arbitration is in force, that gives satisfaction to neither side. The transference of the management of private business from the owners and vesting it in a court that cannot possibly understand all the details of the various trades it has to deal with, has resulted in much confusion. As long as judgment is given in favor of the employed they are satisfied; but when it is against them, they threaten to apply to the High court, and if that fails, they will invoke the aid of the State Legislature to alter the act, and as a last resource they are prepared to organize a vast industrial strike.

The writer of the article proceeds to show the powerlessness of the court to enforce its decisions against the unions, which in many cases have no funds, and when they happen to have money the officials publicly repudiate the acts of their members while privately encouraging them. The article concludes as follows: "The number of applications to the Arbitration court, which affect thousands of workers and large amounts of capital, indicate the extent of industrial unrest in New South Wales. Many of the difficulties that have arisen have been caused by the Arbitration Act, which is having the effect just opposite to what was intended; and when one considers the discontent, time, money and energy that have been spent over the working of this piece of legislation, it is questionable whether, after all, more mischief has not taken place than if men had actually struck in the old-fashioned way. The workmen of Great Britain and the United States of America show their good sense in voting against compulsory arbitration."

WATERWORKS REPORT.

It is quite impossible to come to any conclusion about the report of the waterworks' expert without knowing what it is proposed to pay for the system. The "expurgated" report which we published yesterday morning gives a comparison of the cost of water supplied from the different sources—Elk Lake, Sooke and Goldstream, with a preference for Goldstream. In other words, the people of the city are asked to determine upon a proposition concerning the details of which they are more or less ignorant. Of course, sooner or later it will be necessary to have all the details, because it is impossible to vote intelligently upon a proposition without every dollar of the estimated cost being accounted for.

Mr. Adams is evidently in favor of the Goldstream proposition, but he also recommends the improvement and continued use of the present system. His exact words are: "The revenue of the waterworks in 1904 from water rates and rents are given as $70,000. "This amount, by natural increase, will be before the proposed improvements can be built fully up to the $75,000 required in case the present source of supply is continued. "If Goldstream is utilized it will still be deficient by about $14,000; requiring on the above basis an increase of water rates averaging 20 per cent. "Whatever amount is paid the Esquimalt Water Company for water will be in addition to this. "The water supply without metering will probably not be less than an average of 100 gallons per capita under the conditions favorable as to pressure, which will then prevail. "For each 10,000 gallons paid for water, the annual revenue would need to be increased $8,335, and the rates further advanced 12 per cent."

Without knowing the amount to be paid to the Esquimalt Waterworks Company, it would be idle to offer an opinion as to the proper course to be adopted by the city. Whatever action is taken as a result of Mr. Adams' report, must be determined after its interpretation by the Aldermen, to whom the ratepayers are looking for an intelligible explanation of its terms.

BINDER TWINE AND LUMBER.

Yesterday we called attention to the fact that the government at Ottawa proposed to increase the duty on binder twine and cream separators. These are two things that particularly affect the farmers of Manitoba and the Northwest. The great argument that has been used against the placing of a duty upon twine is that it would increase the cost of living to the settler. In the prairie country, it has been pointed out, the farmer has to import everything he requires in the way of house material, barns, fences, etc., and that a duty on twine means a direct tax upon him. The position which has been taken in regard to that by the people of British Columbia is that twine is the only industry that was not protected, and that in justice to them it should be placed on the same footing as everything else. However, there is a certain amount of reason in the objections that have been urged against the duty, and one can understand a government wishing to retain its popularity with the settlers by not acceding to the demand that has been made, even though it was a matter of justice to this province. We have pointed out on a number of occasions how British Columbia is discriminated against, and that if Eastern interests were involved the justice would soon be righted. This is clearly demonstrated by the announcement made by the Globe in respect to binder twine. If there is any argument in favor of its being protected, there is certainly an equally strong argument in favor of lumber. We have not heard that lumber is to be protected, and we can only conclude that British Columbia is being deliberately sacrificed in this as in all other matters.

BUSINESS PRECAUTION.

A well dressed man who registered at a hotel in St. Joseph, Mo., casually remarked that he never traveled without his "fire escape," and the same time exhibiting the contrivance which he carried. "In case of fire," he said, "I can let myself down from any hotel window. The hotel sold travelers, 'Our terms for guests with fire escapes are cash in advance.'"

THE MIGHTY DOLLAR.

A singular story comes from New York of a certain Dr. Grinnell, dean at one time of the medical faculty of the University of Toronto, who was arrested on a charge of fraud in mistake for another man whom he strongly resembled. When the error became known, the man at whose suit the arrest had been made—he himself being responsible for the wrong identification—wrote a letter of apology which Dr. Grinnell professed to accept. He was irritated, however, over the way in which the police had acted, and he went to police headquarters to make a complaint on that score. There he saw the amiable "Bill" Devery, who at the time was first deputy commissioner. "Bill" gave him scant satisfaction as regards the conduct of the police, but when he heard at whom the arrest had been made, he advised him strongly to "squeeze him—out of him" for false arrest, as he had lots of money. The dejected and dejected-looking man, who had a good one, and entered suit for $50,000. The case went on for a long time, but has now been dropped under very peculiar circumstances. One of the lawyers engaged as counsel for the prosecution, a man named Wickes, described as a former assistant corporation counsel, chairman and personal friend of many justices of the Supreme Court, getting tired of the case, which had been tried four times without result, began to write blackmailing letters to the defendant, advising him to settle with Grinnell if he did not want certain exposures to be made. These letters were signed "Lewis Jarvis." Negotiations were set on foot, and Wickes was arrested in the act of taking a reply to one of his letters out of a lock box in the New York post office. He has confessed to being the author of the letters.

The case is certainly a singular one, if we consider that the man, who, after accepting a letter of apology, was induced by a character like Devery to bring action, held, or at least claimed, a university position, and that his counsel, the black-matter, is a man prominent at the bar and in society. The dollar in the present case it has corrupted and is corrupting make, it is to be feared, a mighty host.

TERRESTRIAL TREMORS.

After the great Assan earthquake which occurred on June 12, 1897, the earth tremor went on continuously for several days. It was estimated that there were 200 shocks in a few days after June 12, and though these had diminished to twenty or thirty a day by the middle of July, the people were accustomed for at least two years after the earthquake to a daily shock. These after-shocks were the residual effects of the first big disturbance and had nothing dangerous in their character.

THE WEASEL'S AIRSHIP.

A New Zealand paper relates that a settler noticed a hawk flying about in a peculiar manner and crying out as if in pain. The settler obtained a gun and shot the bird and investigation showed that the cause of its distress was a weasel which was perched on the hawk's back, with its teeth buried in the bird's neck. Apparently the animal had pecked upon the hawk when it was on the ground, and was carried skyward with the flight of its prey.

ROYALTY AND TRADE.

Queen Victoria set the excellent example of always buying her clothes from British or Irish houses, and that has always been the practice of the present Majesty and the Princess of Wales. The statement that Princess Margaret "is the first of the present reigning house to go abroad for her wedding dress and outfit," he, we believe, strictly accurate. We cannot but regard it as most unfortunate.

A CHINESE TRADE DOLLAR.

The Daily Globe of Nelson, B. C., suggests the coining of a Canadian trade dollar for use in Chinese trade. The Mexican dollar circulates in China because it passes both at home and abroad, its value as bullion, Canadian and American silver coins, being tokens for about double their actual value as metal, are too valuable at home to circulate on such a basis abroad. We can now sell our silver in any market, and nothing would be gained by disposing of it in China.

A NATURAL CONCLUSION.

An Englishman, while passing along the main street in Bangor, Me., stopped in a hole in the sidewalk and, falling, broke his leg. He brought suit against the city for one thousand dollars and engaged Hamilton Hamlin for counsel. Hamlin won his case, but the city appealed to the Supreme Court. Here also the decision was for Hamlin's client. After settling up the claim, Hamlin sent for his client and said: "What's this?" asked the Englishman. "That's your damages, after taking out my fee, the cost of appeal, and several other expenses." The Englishman looked at the dollar and then at Hamlin. "What's the matter with this?" he asked; is it bad?"

BUSINESS IN CANADA.

Dr. Spencer of Ottawa in the Magazine of Commerce. Among the many developments of trade and commerce in Canada, nothing is playing a more important part than the establishment of business from other countries, owing to the tariff which now prevents the United States from shipping in their surplus products and manufactures, and thus underselling the Canadian industries. In respect to the United States, that country is waiting up to the moment that it will give them to establish their industries in Canada, and they will do so on a pretty large scale. Huge concerns are already in Canada, and are doing business in competition with Canadian enterprises, using Canadian labor, although, unfortunately, introducing new types and experts in the higher branches of the particular industries from the States. Large numbers of these might be mentioned if space permitted, but it is sufficient to say to British manufacturers and British traders generally, that if they wish to capture Canadian business, they will have to take a more lively interest and make up to the possibilities of doing such business by planting themselves in the country. It is not a matter of waiting for the same, instead of presuming that the long distance to get orders and goods can be achieved by existing facilities and the means of doing so. It is a matter of establishing British firms to establish themselves in Canada, as well as keep on their businesses at home, and that without delay.

Was Almost Driven to Desperation by Itching Skin Disease, But Found a Complete Cure in Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Mr. William Castle, Eagle Hill, Alberta, writes: "About November 1, 1903, I broke out with small red blotches on my arms, and they afterwards spread all over my body. It was so itchy that I could not sleep at nights for scratching. I suffered untold misery, and was almost driven to desperation. I tried everything at hand and my friends recommended numerous remedies, all to no avail. "When I began the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment I had little hope of relief, but the result has been wonderful. From the first this preparation gave relief from the dreadful itching, and it has brought about a cure. "Wherever there is itching of the skin or a sore that will not heal, Dr. Chase's Ointment can be used with positive assurance of relief and cure. Sixty cents a box, at all dealers or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto."

Forest Fires Raging.—Large forest fires are reported to be raging along the northern coast of the province. Valdez Island is said to be the worst sufferer in this respect though there are fires in other places. The dry spring is no doubt accountable for the damage.

A Coming Picnic.—Much pleasant anticipation has been aroused over the coming Catholic Sunday school picnic, which is to be held on July 1 at Saanichton. Tickets for adults may be had tomorrow at the cathedral entrance, or at the Archbishop's palace at any time.

Types to Meet.—The annual meeting of Victoria Typographical Union will be held in Labor Temple tomorrow afternoon at 2:30. As the election of officers and the appointment of committees for the ensuing twelve months will take place at this meeting, a full attendance of members is requested. Other business of importance will come before the meeting.

No. 2 Meeting.—A special general meeting of No. 2 Company, Fifth Regiment, C. A., was held at Camp Macaulay on the 22nd, after drill, at which it was decided to give the non-commissioned officers and men of the company $2 each from the association fund to provide expenses for the forthcoming trip to Vancouver on Dominion Day. With the dollar given to the members of the regiment at Vancouver, this will allow of each man of No. 2 Company having $3 to provide for himself during the two days spent at Vancouver.

Elected Officers.—At a meeting of Division 109 of the A. A. Street and Electric Railway Employees of America, the following officers were elected for the ensuing six months: President, R. A. Ritchie, vice-president, M. B. Ritchie, financial secretary, R. Dewar, recording secretary, R. C. Wilson, treasurer, C. W. Thornton, conductor, W. Doyle, warden, J. Wood, sentinel, W. Peddie, executive committee, M. J. McKinnon, N. Dewar, C. W. Thornton and A. G. Oakes; correspondent to the official organ, A. W. Clayton.

No Site on Reserve.—W. J. Pendray will require to abandon all hope of securing a site for his works on the Indian reserve, as will be seen from the following Ottawa despatch of yesterday: "The deputy minister of Indian affairs writes to George Hiley, M. P., in reference to the application of W. J. Pendray, of Victoria, for a site on the Songhees reserve on which to erect soap and paint works, stating that the matter of a lease of the necessary lands was referred to the Indians, who unanimously resolved not to lease any part of their reservation, so that the department is not in a position to entertain Mr. Pendray's application."

More Music.—The new Art Bell Piano Co., of Toronto, have opened an agency at 74 Fort street, with Mr. J. R. Bennett as their agent. The store, which is a very fine one, is as yet but partially filled with instruments, but, as stated by the agent, there are two carloads under way for Victoria. The Bell Organ & Piano Co. is one of the oldest and most reputable manufacturers of musical instruments in Canada.

LOCAL NEWS.

Gets Appointment.—Doctor John Houghton, who recently graduated at McGill University, has been fortunate in obtaining the appointment of resident physician and surgeon to the Montreal Maternity Hospital.

Victoria West School.—At next Monday evening's meeting of the city council Ald. Hall will present a resolution asking leave to introduce a by-law for the raising of the sum of $30,000 to purchase a site and provide for the erection of a new school building at Victoria West.

Placing Salmon Fry.—On Thursday Mr. Kemp, the oyster expert, and Mr. Taylor, fisheries inspector, placed a number of Atlantic salmon fry in Cowichan river, and next week will place some in Qualicum river, forty miles north of Nanaimo. Oysters will be placed at various points next week.

Strawberry Social.—Yesterday evening, in the schoolroom of the Congregational church, a very successful indoor garden party was held—strawberries and cream being the chief item of the edibles. A splendid programme of music and a good attendance made the evening a most enjoyable one.

New Hack Stand.—Acting on the request contained in a petition from the hackmen to the city council, Ald. Hanna at the next meeting of the council will ask leave to introduce a by-law providing for the creation of a hack stand on the corner of Menzies and Belleville streets, to accommodate the drivers of vehicles who are in attendance at the steamers.

Municipal Lighting.—Ald. Douglas yesterday posted the following notice on the bulletin board at the city hall: "I will move the following resolution on June 26, 1905: That in the event of the city acquiring the water from Goldstream, the city electrical engineer be instructed to make a report on the probable cost of installing a plant for the city's lighting purposes."

Concerts at Gorge.—After the successful band concert which was given at the Gorge on Thursday evening by the Fifth Regiment band, it was decided that other concert should be given on Wednesday evening next, and if they continue to attract as many people as they did on Thursday, the concerts will be given weekly during the whole summer.

Work on Hotel.—It is likely that the work of laying the first course of stone for the superstructure of the C. P. R. hotel will begin next week, when a large proportion of the material needed for the beginning of building operations will have been laid on the ground. Brick and stone are arriving steadily and are being placed alongside the foundations in readiness for the workmen.

Mr. Hendry's Injuries.—A cablegram from London gives particulars of the recent accident to John Hendry, president of the B. C. Mills, Timber & Trading Co., in which he injured his ankle. He slipped on the deck of the liner Victorian owing to the boat pitching. When the steamer docked he was conveyed ashore on a stretcher. Mr. Hendry is one of the party of Canadian manufacturers now visiting the Old Country.

Mandolin Club.—The Marcherita Mandolin Club has elected the following officers: H. J. Harris, president; Mrs. M. D. Harris, vice-president; Mrs. M. H. Rathorn, secretary; Alex. Bains, treasurer; Signor Ernesto Claudio, director. The report from the recent benefit concert given by the club in aid of the Anti-Tuberculosis Society was eminently satisfactory, a net profit of $65.89 having been handed the society at its last meeting by Mrs. Rathorn.

Ex-Commissioner Here.—Fred, Congdon, ex-commissioner of the Yukon, accompanied by Mrs. Congdon, spent yesterday in the city, guests at the Driad. Referring to conditions in the North, Mr. Congdon said the Yukon, while it still offers many inducements to individuals, is developing into a field for carrying on work by large corporations. There is abundant ground to be covered by steam dredges to give good results for years and years to come. The enterprise is a great one, and so far removed from the manufacturing centres it is an expensive undertaking to place machinery on the ground. The results are such as to induce large companies to invest. The water supply is an important feature in connection with the work, and millions will have to be spent in this branch alone.

Official City Maps.—Ald. Fell, assisting Ald. Hanna in the direction of the meeting of the council he will present the official map of the city, inasmuch as the official map rolls of the city streets filed in the land registry, do not show any of the alterations in the official map made since the year 1889 by the opening, closing and extending of streets. The new map, which is being prepared by the city engineer, will show the streets within the extended limits of the city, and the official map of the city does not show the amendments by subdivisions made for many years; he it therefore resolved that the city engineers be instructed to prepare an amended official map of the city of Victoria, showing all alterations."

Temporary Certificates.—Temporary certificates, valid until December, 1905, have been granted to all teachers whose third-class certificates expire in July, 1905, and who have not yet received Normal school training. These are third-class certificates, which expire in July, 1905, will therefore be able to teach in our public schools until the Normal school is open to them in January, 1906, when the "advanced session" commences. This session lasts for six months, and is open only to those who have had experience in public schools in British Columbia or other provinces of the Dominion. These temporary certificates will be issued during 1905 only, it is therefore expected that those teachers without normal training whose third-class certificates expire in July, 1906, will attend the first advanced session, commencing last January, 1906.

Suburban Train Service.—As an instance of the ever-increasing popularity of the suburban train service now in operation on the Esquimalt & Nanaimo railway between this city and Saanichton Lake and Nanaimo stations, it may be said that the number of families camping is being augmented daily, and with the closing of the city schools no doubt a good many more will avail themselves of the opportunity to spend the warmer season of the year at one of the many picturesque camping grounds along the line. For the benefit of those wishing to visit their friends under canvas, or for picnic parties, a special rate of 50 cents is charged for those travelling without normal training to Goldstream will be in effect on Sundays, and this, together with the suitable train service, affords a splendid opportunity to enjoy a day's outing at a nominal expense. The train leaves the city on Sundays at 9 a. m., 2 and 4 p. m., and returning arrive here at 8 p. m.

Valuable Dog Killed.—The Oak Bay car last evening ran over and instantly killed W. F. Hall's well-known fox terrier named "Norfolk Victor," the corner of Richmond road and Oak Bay avenue. The dog was by "Norfolk Victor" and was a very fine pointed one and much thought of by fox terrier fanciers. Mr. Hall valued the dog highly and is very sorry to lose him.

Fighting the White Plague.—The pastors of all the city churches are heartily supporting the Anti-Tuberculosis Association in its fight against the white plague. The association is holding a series of lectures in their pulpits tomorrow and soliciting the work of the association the moral and financial assistance of their congregations. The trustees of several churches have agreed to the distribution of envelopes in the pews for the use of those who wish to make contributions to the funds of the association.

Foresters' Picnic.—A meeting of the joint committee of the A. O. F. was held last evening to make final arrangements for the first annual picnic which is to be held this afternoon at Kanaka ranch. The committee reports a capital list of sports and games, and have secured a splendid list of prizes, which, it is expected, will be eagerly competed for. Cars will leave at 10 a. m. and every 20 minutes thereafter. Games will commence at 2 o'clock sharp. Instructions have been given to the conductors of the term of the picnic who are going to the picnic to leave the cars at the top of the hill above the Canteen grounds, where easy access can be made to the picnic grounds.

The Salmon Season.—According to the Vancouver World, about forty canneries will pack the Fraser river salmon this season. These are distributed as follows: B. C. Packers' Association, 16; Anglo-British Columbia Canning Co., 10; United Canneries, 3; Canadian Canning Co., 3; J. H. Todd & Sons, 2; British Columbia Canning Co., National Packing Co., Great Northern Cannery, Federation Brand Salmon Canning Co., St. Mungo Canning Co. and C. S. Windsor, one each. All these are in the Fraser River Canners' association. Outside that organization are several more. To catch the fish, five or six thousand men will be out daily, except in the weekly close season of 36 hours, from the time the run begins until it ends, a period which usually occupies most of July and August, and may even extend into September. By agreement with the canners, the men will receive 12½ cents a fish during July and 10 cents a fish for the rest of the season.

ASTONISHING RESULTS

The great strides that medical science has made in the last few years is due to the germ theory. When the germ of a disease has been discovered, the doctors have not been slow in finding a drug to kill it. A few years ago it was rare to find a bald-headed man or woman. The falling out of hair is due to a dandruff germ, and now it has been discovered how to kill this germ. The remedy used is called Newbro's Hairdressing. Its success has been marvellous. Not a failure has been so far reported. It is a hairdressing, hair dressing free from oil or sticky substances. Try it and be convinced of its actual merit. Sold by leading druggists. Rock Bay Bridge.—The proposal to fill in portions of the area at either end of the Rock Bay bridge has been abandoned by the city council on account of the expense involved. The council has decided on the recommendation of the city engineer to use certain parts of the old bridge in the construction of the new one.

Seeking Runaways.—Chief Langley has received a communication from Toronto in which information is sought regarding two boys who left their homes in Toronto on May 29, with the intention, it was believed, of going to the States. The boys are John Fulton and Joseph Paulowski, both 16 years of age.

The Police Court.—In the police court yesterday morning Andrew Langley was fined $5 and costs for violating the fire prevention by-law by having left refuse paper outside his premises at the rear, contrary to the by-law. Mr. Rhyg stated in his defence that he had ordered a drayman to remove the paper, and it had remained behind on night. He was convicted and fined.

Garden Party.—This afternoon and evening the ladies of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church will hold a garden party in the manse grounds, 55 Birdcage Walk, from 2 to 10 o'clock. The Cecilia Orchestra will be in attendance, and the various booths for the sale of fancy articles, strawberries and sweets will be looked after by a number of young ladies. Afternoon tea will be served.

Boycott by Chinese.—The Victoria Chinese are holding meetings and pasting large red placards in Chinatown seeking to aid the general movement started by Chinese the world over to boycott United States goods. A fund is being subscribed which will be sent to China to aid those coolies who lose their wages by refusal to unload steamers which bring United States goods to Chinese ports. The local Chinese say they intend to boycott United States goods in this city, and, further, will not work for anyone who is a United States citizen.

The Giant Whirl.—A novelty in the amusement line, owned and operated by Vancouver people, and built at Bullen's works, Esquimalt, was thrown open to the public at the big exposition at Portland on Wednesday. It is known as the Giant Whirl, and Mr. C. D. Bushby, of Vancouver, together with several other people of that city, controls the machine. During the evening the whirl was well patronized. It is a sensation-furnishing contrivance, and when going at full speed passengers on it are whirling through the air at the rate of a mile a minute in perfect safety. The whirl operates on the centrifugal force principle, and cars attached to immense poles, set in a revolving platform, whirl out in an angle of 45 degrees when the machine is in operation.

One Hundred Millions.—The United States assay office at Seattle yesterday announced that $100,000,000 in gold had been treated at the assay office since July, 1898, and gold is still pouring in. The receipts for Thursday alone were 21,627.94 troy ounces of gold. This brought the grand total from the opening of the office, July 15, 1898, to June 22, 1905, including 6,092,158.72 troy ounces. Reduced to avoirdupois pounds it gives 397,145.77; again to tons, 19,555. Of this gold, by far the greater amount comes from the Canadian Yukon, the total amount dealt with at the mint at Yukon being $68,725,574.42, as compared with $21,126,269.74 from the territory of Alaska. Over five millions—to be exact, $5,196,171.26—was received at the mint from British Columbia. The gold received from Washington, Idaho, Montana and Oregon did not amount to $1,500,000.

Rev. J. C. Speers' Pastorale.—A despatch from Barrie, Ont., appearing in Eastern exchanges makes an interesting reference to a proposed local pastiche as follows: "With the passing of the final draft of stations at the closing midnight session of conference, the official relations of Rev. J. C. Speers with the Methodist church, Toronto, ceased. The church falls into the control of the chairman of the Toronto central district, Rev. J. J. Redditt, president of conference, who will preside at trustee meetings till the deed of sale is executed. Rev. Dr. Speers, who has been a member of the conference for the past fifteen years, has been pastor of Canadian churches with the largest indebtedness, and in each instance the amounts have been reduced. McCaul Street church last year had as successful a twelve-month as any in its history, and there is no more heroic or liberal congregation in the conference. Sympathy was expressed for Rev. Mr. Speers and his congregation over the circumstances which brought about the forced sale. That the conference did do its best to save the edifice was evidenced by the personal subscriptions of over $10,000."

The Mainspring of the body

Health Depends On The Blood—and "Fruit-a-tives" Insure Pure, Rich Blood.

Correct time hinges on the mainspring of your watch. Gold cases and jeweled monograms look handsome—but it is the homely old steel mainspring that sends you to work on time, and prevents you from missing the train.

Blood is the body's mainspring. People lose arms and legs—eyes and ears—even the entire stomach. But you've got to have good red blood, to have good health. Fruit-a-tives give it to you.

Just see how necessary the blood is. Every organ in the body depends on the blood for its nourishment. It supplies gastric juice to the stomach to assist digestion. After food is properly digested, it takes up nourishment from the intestines and builds up flesh and strength. Prick the skin at any point, and blood will flow.

But—if the bowels don't move regularly, they keep food there until it decays—ferments. Instead of blood taking up nourishment, it carries this decaying matter—poison—all over the body.

The stomach wants clean gastric juice and gets poison—

—indigestion, sour stomach, heartburn, coated tongue.

The kidneys want pure blood to help them, and get poison—

—pain in the back and then kidney disease.

The muscles want nourishment so they can grow strong. They get poison instead——rheumatism and sciatica.

The blood makes a vain effort to get rid of the poison and carries it to the skin——pimples, blotches, sallow complexion.

Fruit-a-tives clean the stomach, and make sure that food is digested properly. They go after the lazy liver—and stop those "bilious attacks." They tone

Fruit-a-tives

Purify the blood because they first of all cure CONSTIPATION, which is at the root of the trouble.

"I find Fruit-a-tives to be the best medicine I have ever taken for my trouble. I have been a sufferer from Constipation for five years and until I used Fruit-a-tives, could find nothing that did me any permanent good. Other remedies helped for a time but the trouble always returned. I find the Fruit-a-tives pleasant to take, and instead of increasing the dose as I had to with all other medicines, I have steadily lessened the dose. One tablet every two nights is sufficient now to make my bowels move regularly each day. All my visitors now hear about my new cure for Constipation."

up the bowels—strengthen and invigorate them so they move regularly every day. They keep the kidneys working properly. With all the impurities of the body gotten rid of as Nature intends, there's none left to taint the blood.

That is the Fruit-a-tives way of cleansing and purifying the blood—and it is the only way to get the pure, rich blood that every man and woman and child must have to be well and keep well.

—if you have not your healthy color

—if you have pimples and blotches mar the complexion

—if the skin is sallow
—if the head aches
—if the tongue is coated and breath bad
—if the stomach is all upset
—if there is distress after eating —and especially if Constipation is becoming chronic, start NOW on Fruit-a-tives.

One box of Fruit-a-tives will show you how easily and quickly these troubles can be cured, now that you know the right remedy to take. Your druggist has them.

The Big Game of the Season

The day of the great lacrosse match has arrived, and the boys are anxiously waiting to go on the field. The home team are going on the field with the intention of doing their best to win, but realize that they have a hard proposition in Vancouver. The Terminus City team arrived last evening and are said by those who know to be in good shape for the game. The local team has been considerably strengthened since its appearance here on May 24. Munro and Fletcher make their debut on a Victoria field, and will show the sport-loving people of Victoria that the executive have secured two good men; besides these, the old war horse Dewar, will be on the defence, and Stan Peele at inside home. Up to the time of going to press the question of a referee had not been decided. It was the intention to have Cheyne of Westminster, but owing to a mix-up in the wires he did not arrive last evening. An effort was being made to secure a man from Seattle. The executive take this last opportunity to remind the citizens that the game will commence at 3 o'clock sharp. The following is the line-up of the teams:

Battle For "A Certain Place"

Will Take Place at Mobilization to Be Held Here on Monday.

Camp Closes at Macaulay Plains After a Successful Period of Training.

On Monday Victoria will be the scene of a battle for the possession of "a certain place." At present this "certain place" cannot be divulged; the military censors are withholding all information. The battle will be between the Fifth Regiment, C. A., with two 13-pounder field guns, and as many men as employers will grant leave of absence in a morning consisting of the Sixth Regiment of D. O. C. Rifles from Vancouver and New Westminster, 350 strong, as well as the officers and men of the K. G. A. and R. E. of the Esquimalt garrison, who will be equally divided with the military forces. The Fifth Regiment, C. A., will parade at the Drill hall at 8:30 a. m. on Monday and march to the scene, whence a start is to be made in a race for the position to be fought for. The Mainland forces will encamp at the Agricultural building in the exhibition grounds, will leave their camp on the morning of Monday and a race will take place for the "certain place" between the opposing forces. The winners of the race will occupy the point and the early force will immediately commence an attack in the attempt to dislodge those holding the position. If the local artillerymen are successful in securing possession of "this certain place," their guns will assist in the defence, otherwise they will shell the hill to prepare for infantry assaults. The sappers of the garrison will be in full strength to carry out the engineering works necessary to the battle, and, all told, the citizen soldiers will receive a good amount of training in service conditions to fit them for any emergency that may arise.

The famous party of the Mainland contingent reached the city yesterday by the steamer Princess Victoria to prepare the camping place at the exhibition grounds for the rifle regiment. The Mainland forces will rendezvous at Vancouver Hill last night, the New Westminster forces, two companies, being brought to Vancouver by special cars, and all will embark on the steamer Chatter at the P. I. R. wharf at 11 p. m., the embarkation being carried out under the direction of Lieut. James Slater, who is to be transport officer of the Mainland forces.

The Camp Closes

The annual camp of the Fifth Regiment, C. A., closed last night, and the officers and men were sent back to their homes by the regiment. Considerable work was done during the two weeks spent under canvas at Macaulay Plains. The shooting with the six-inch gun at Fort Macaulay showed the gunners to have profited by past practice, for the shooting was not only carried out much quicker, but there was less expenditure of ammunition.

The Garrison companies took part in the competition, which is to decide the ownership of the Gordon Prior cup. The winners are not known yet. Lieut. Col. Hall said last night the result would not be known until the points had been figured out, which would not be for a few days. He expressed himself as well pleased with the showing made by the companies. Nos. 1 and 2 companies also did some good work with the thirteen pounders, and fine practice was made with the Maxims. This afternoon practice with the field guns will be held by Nos. 3 and 4 companies.

At the close of the firing practice with the six-inch guns last night the tents were struck on Macaulay Point, and a fatigue party of three hundred men were sent to the bluffs, etc., which will be carried to the city today. The regiment then fell in and headed by the regimental band, marched to the drill hall, the band playing popular airs as the regiment marched homeward to the drill hall, which was reached with the band playing the strains of "Home, Sweet Home."

FACULTY CONCERT A SUCCESS

Fine Entertainment in A. O. U. W. Hall in Aid of Seamen's Institute

The concert given last evening in the A. O. U. W. hall by the B. C. Ladies' College faculty in aid of the Seamen's Institute, drew a fair attendance of the music-loving public to enjoy a very classical and well-selected programme, the first vocal portion of which was very ably supported by Miss Queenie McCoy, one of three talented sisters, whose beautiful and well-cultivated mezzo soprano voice was displayed to great advantage in La Habanera, from Bizet's "Carmen," known as the "carmine" solo, which was rendered with remarkable verve and finish. An enthusiastic encore was responded to with "The Creole Love Song" by Smith.

The violin solo, "Remembrance," by Thea, was rendered by Miss Nora McCoy in a really admirable manner, displaying much care and feeling, and in response to the encore, "La Campanella," by Marie, was played with equal grace.

Hadley's beautiful old world ditty, "My Mother Bids Me Mind My Hair," was feelingly rendered by Miss McCoy, who later contributed "Consols a Nina," by Wuketin, the well-deserved encore being a dainty little Irish gem and "A Life Lesson" by Nyvion.

Mrs. Russell Boulton, whose clever and sympathetic accompaniments contributed not a little to the success of the vocalists, added to the programme as a piano solo a very fine interpretation of Wagner's "The Swan Song," the "Rainbow" ("Sweet Star of Eve") from Tannhauser—a performance which deserved a more powerful instrument than that in use.

The programme was varied by readings delivered with much effect by Miss

GOLF.

Tournament at Portland

Portland, Ore., June 23.—The finals of the men's Pacific Coast golf championship were played off today and resulted in a victory for Rodney L. Maclean, who easily defeated T. L. Latham by a score of 10 up and 9 to play.

The women's Coast championship semi-finals and finals were keenly contested. Miss Carrie Flinders defeated Miss Daisy Langley of Victoria by one hole and Miss Violet Pooley of Victoria won from Miss Langley by one hole.

The game between Miss Pooley and Miss Langley was hard fought, and tomorrow they will play off their tie for the lowest score medal play, which was left undecided last Tuesday.

In the finals, Miss Pooley met Miss Flinders, and won 3 up and 2 to play. Miss Flinders put up a steady and safe game, but Miss Pooley's playing was admirable and gave cause for much praise.

This gives the Coast championship to Miss Pooley.

In the minor competitions, Mr. Harvey Combe of Victoria won the men's first flight consolation cup after a hard match with Mr. Lippy of Seattle, the score being 3 up and 2 to play.

J. H. WHITTOME,

Duncan's, V.I.

Underhill, namely, "Tomorrow at Ten," from the Newport Idyll of Nora Perry, and Schiller's "Rival Queens," the latter calling into evidence considerable dramatic talent and depth of feeling in a clever and carefully studied portrayal of the scene.

Mr. Jesse Langfield's rendering of Handel's magnificent Largo in G was a very enjoyable finish to a delightful performance, which was terminated by the national anthem.

Gravel From Ross Bay.—The city council has decided on getting 1,000 yards of sand and gravel for flat-filling purposes at James Bay from the Ross Bay beach. Ald. Douglas is opposed to this plan, contending that it had previously been agreed to refrain from obtaining gravel from that locality. Ald. Fullerton, on the other hand, takes the position that getting a small quantity of gravel will not have any serious effect. In his opinion a far more dangerous matter was the removal of logs from the beach, as these prevent the waves from washing away the bank. In the opinion of a number of the aldermen a stone wall will have to be constructed in the near future to stop any further falling away.

TREATING CONSUMPTION.

By its direct action upon the stomach and digestive organ, Angler's Emulsion perfects digestion and assimilation and naturally builds up the health and strength by providing the system with flesh and tissue-building material. It increases the power of disease resistance, cures the cough and makes the lungs sound and strong.

Whooping Cough in Jamaica.

Mr. J. Riley Bennett, a chemist of Brown's Town, West Indies, writes: "I cannot speak too highly of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It has proved itself to be the best remedy for whooping cough, which is prevalent on this end of the globe. It has never failed to relieve in any case where I have recommended it, and makes mother after using it, are daily thanking me for advising them. This remedy is for sale by all Druggists."

SEVERE COLD IN THE CHEST

"My fourteen-year-old boy had a very severe cold in the chest last winter and I really thought he was going to die. He coughed nearly all the time and sometimes would spit up blood. I can positively say that he was completely cured by two bottles of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, and he has not been troubled since."—Mrs. J. Provost, Renfrew, Ont.
